

Sustainable Policy RespOnse to Urban mobility Transition

Welcome to the fifth SPROUT newsletter

SPROUT has entered its final stage. After testing and evaluating our pilots, our nine validation cities have entered the stage to assess the transferability of the outcomes and shape the SPROUT city-led innovative policy response. To definitely scale up from local pilots to long-lasting real implementations integrated in the cities, the project has released some of its tools to contribute to an evidence-based policymaking.

In this newsletter (second-to-last) you will be able to get the latest news on our project and check out the latest and upcoming SPROUT events.

Enjoy the reading!
